

Every grooming includes ear cleaning with a veterinary ear cleaner and the following based on owner preference:

hygiene cut, trimming hair under pads, shaved tummy, nail trim.

If an owner requests a severely matted cat's coat to be brushed out, we will need to evaluate the coat in order to advise if this is going to be possible. Certain coat textures felt when matted and cannot be brushed out. In this case, the only option will be to shave the entire coat down and allow it to grow out again.

If the coat can be brushed out, a matted surcharge may apply, depending on the extent of the matting. Brushing out a severely matted coat takes a lot of time and skill, in order to not injure the cat, or damage the coat.

To keep a long haired cat's coat in beautiful condition, regular brushing by the owner is essential, together with a monthly professional grooming session.
